SPECIAL ON COLORADO BLUE SPRUCE

We have a surplus of 6 year old transplants which will grade 10-20 in. A good quantity of blue trees in them. They are not heavy specimens, but ideal to line out where they can be shaped up and grown into specimens. Were also root pruned this past spring so roots are excellent.

BIRCH, WHITE--

Betula papyrifera

Most birch on the market today are collected. Ours are Nursery Grown Transplants. We collect our own seed from select specimens, and germinate the seed under controlled conditions. The little seedlings are transplanted to small peat pots and later put in the field. Here under an intensive watering and feeding program, we have produced trees several feet in one year. They are superb plants.
